

Sweet Angel – Wish You Could Have Had A Better Life

One of our board members found a severely neglected mare living in her neighborhood. After days of negotiations, her owner finally agreed to sign her over to us. She had been neglected. She was under weight and she had foundered years prior, but no vet or farrier care had been provided to her.

Our vet and farrier worked diligently to help with the founder. Her feet were trimmed and she was given medications for immediate relief.

X-rays were taken a few days later only to find that the bones in her feet had deteriorated to half bones. We were in disbelief that she was still standing.

Had she received treatment from her owner at the time she foundered years ago, this could have been prevented.

Unfortunately there was nothing we could do for her to give her a life without pain

With strong medication, we kept her comfortable for a few days to show her the kindness she had not known before. She received lots of love and all the treats she wanted, before we helped her cross the rainbow bridge.

The county prosecutor, after reviewing our records, did file cruelty to animal charges against Angel's owner.
